

Three Trafinz Leadership Awards were presented at the Conference Dinner

Trafinz 2011 Leadership Award for sustainable transport

Wellington Regional Council – Active a2b Programme

This programme provides support and innovative resources to encourage walking and cycling to work particularly in warmer weather. Over two years it has attracted 1500 participants. This project shows great leadership.

Emma Hope (on behalf of Greater Wellington) receives the Award from President Andy Foster.

Trafinz 2011 Leadership Awards for transport safety

Safe Kids New Zealand – Booster Seat Campaign

This campaign aimed to increase awareness of the need to continue using booster seats until a child is large enough to safely use an adult seat belt. The campaign has been extremely effective in raising awareness with parents and children and leads in the promotion of a safety culture in the community.

Moses Alatini of Safe Kids NZ being congratulated by President Andy Foster and Vice President John Gottler, who convened the judging panel.

New Zealand Transport Agency/ Opus International Consultants/ MWH – The Development of the High Risk Rural Roads Guide

NZTA has prepared this guidance on Safe Systems with respect to travel on rural roads. This guide provides a valuable tool for all roading authorities to plan, evaluate and gain funding for safety projects on high risk rural roads.

John Gottler, Andy Foster from Trafinz with Cherie Mason (Opus) and Colin Brodie (NZTA)

The judges also highly commended the following two entries:

Tauranga City Council – Travel Smart Programme

This programme, targeted at senior primary school students, aimed to empower youth to solve issues related to their existing travel and to plan for new safe and sustainable travel to school.

Waikato Regional Council – Regional Road Safety Strategy for the Waikato Region

This Strategy involves all key stakeholders working in a collaborative manner and aims to improve road safety in the Region.
